

-- Farmhand Kitchen Reviews --

"Corporate holiday functions are never an easy event to plan. After my experience with Farmhand Kitchen for catering our 2017 holiday party, I have one less thing to worry about now.

Erin Cochran was extremely easy to work with and the value of what you get (service, quality of the food, peace of mind, etc.) exceeded my expectations. Erin worked with us on the menu and the food was typical of a high quality restaurant instead of your typical rubbery meatball appetizer and cardboard chicken breast you would normally find at corporate functions. Moreover, all of the Farmhand Kitchen staff were attentive and even went out of their way to accommodate unplanned requests.

When a vegetarian guest mentioned how much she loves polenta, (she is vegetarian, the polenta was not), Chef Cochran immediately whipped up a vegetarian version of the polenta for the guest. This was just one small example that typifies the level of service and care that Farmhand Kitchen gave to our holiday party.

All and all, Farmhand Kitchen performed above and beyond what I expected and certainly what I thought my budget can afford. Furthermore, they cleaned up at the end of the night, leaving the venue as spotless as it was when they first arrived. Not only was my company pleased, the venue management were also quite happy.

I would highly recommend Farmhand Kitchen for any catered function!" -
Jenn, Private Events Coordinator, Menlo Park

"Farmhand has hosted several of our office events ranging from holiday parties to more casual office mixers. They are reliable, professional, service oriented and capable of working with a range of budgets. We were able to collaborate on the menu creating a variety of culturally influenced dishes and artisanal cocktails. The quality of farm to table and organically sourced ingredients, many of which grown on their own farm, made the difference in taste and experience than our usual catering options. No one will leave hungry, and as our employees have unanimously voiced "we want Farmhand to host all our office events moving forward." Ginny, Private Events Coordinator, Oakland